Tweed / September 08, 2009 03:15PM

-1 Replies.....Dec.31,1969

Hello, I've been running version 4.3.4 for several years with no problems until this weekend when the main page of the board suddenly changed all reply counts to -1 and the dates of all postings changed to December 31, 1969.

The expanded threads will not show up at all, but when opening the individual threads, the dates are correct.
I'm not sure what to do about it. Anybody else out there have this happen over the weekend? Anybody have an idea what caused this?

Here's a link to it... Calls, Responses & Fieldhollars

Thanks for any help.

Tweed

Thomas Seifert / September 09, 2009 07:43PM

Re: -1 Replies.....Dec.31,1969

This could be everything, really. You should ask your host, maybe they upgraded some software component like php or mysql. We can't help you with that old version anymore.

Thomas Seifert

Phorum Development Team / Mysnip-Solutions.de

Custom Phorum and general software development

worry-free Phorum Hosting

Tweed / September 09, 2009 09:01PM

Re: -1 Replies.....Dec.31,1969

Thanks Thomas. And my apologies for placing this in the wrong section. One more question, Is there any way to preserve the 80,000 posts on there and switch to the newer supported version of phorum without losing it all?

Thomas Seifert / September 09, 2009 09:20PM

Re: -1 Replies.....Dec.31,1969

Sure, there is that phorum3to5convert.php script in the distribution.

Thomas Seifert

Phorum Development Team / Mysnip-Solutions.de

Custom Phorum and general software development

worry-free Phorum Hosting

Tweed / September 09, 2009 10:18PM

Re: -1 Replies.....Dec.31,1969

Good and thanks!