Mass delete messages.

Spammers are fast nowadays and there could be hundreds of spam messages to delete on just one forum. Deleting spam one by one is really frustrating. So... if there was a checkbox for every message and button that deletes all marked messages the work would be much much easier.

I manually approve registrations in addition to email confirmation required. You may wish to use a couple of modules to assist in your problem.

I also suggest zblock from www.spambotsecurity.com in addition to the above.

You might want to check out the Prune messages option on the phorum admin page.
