Hack Request

Please.

I'm really liking Phorum. I'm a Vbulletin user it's getting bloated I need something fast and effective. Phorum fits the bill. I also need some help.

I would like to simply place 2 columns almost exactly what you see here but in Phorum 5.x.x I've tried a few things but can't get divs working properly to make the adjustments.

If someone wants to steer me in the right direction with some snippets of code, and where the code is placed to get this working that would be great.

regards

Why not just copy for example this pages source and use it as a base for your own page?

Hi Panu,

Because it's not that easy at least I don't think it is, maybe I will try and see what happens.

this is easy..

in your header...

start table..
start row..
first column...
end first column...
start second column
end header..
```

Forum stuff...

```
start footer..
end column..
end row..
end table..
end footer..
```
