Smileys...

Is there some universal agreement on how to use the Smileys? And if so, what are they?

I know the simple ones used in this forum.

Smile :)

Frown :(

What are the general characters for the other ones?

Dont Understand

"it's replace plugin just look in plugins of your phorum admin."

OK, what does this do? how does it work? Are there smilies already built in to Phorum?

---

Thanks for any info

Re: Dont Understand

OK,

Login into your phorum administration page, click on the Manage Plugin and click on Properties then key in what you want to replace with.

Re: Dont Understand

"then key in what you want to replace with." OK, is this a bad joke? Replace what with what? I don't understand... key in what??? commands? images? what??? replace what??? I know what the plugin screen looks like, what (exactly) do you put in there?

Sorry for the frustration but I just don't get it!

Thanks,

Re: Dont Understand

1. go to admin page
2. click on "manage plug-ins" link in admin page
3. click on "properties" for "replace plug-ins"
4. on that page, there will be two fields

"new replace _____ with _____". the first field put ":-)" and second field put your image tag of where your smiley face image is at.

5. click on "apply" and put in ":-)" in the message body and once posted it should show you the smiley image.

Hello,

Just get the plugin forlder form the CVS

[\[sourceforge.net\]](http://sourceforge.net)

The version bundled with 3.3 Stable doesn't work but this has been fixed since

Wow! Talk about confusing

I am not clear on the whole CVS thing but man, find what folder? where? only thing on that page shows 3.2 releases....

Are there instructions on how the whole CVS thing works?

Re: Wow! Talk about confusing

Allright, I've placed ; ) this code in the first box and < img src="smilies/wink.gif" > in the second box (without spaces) but if I try it in the forum, it doesn't work. Do you know any sollution. I've got Phorum version 3.3

Re: Wow! Talk about confusing

Sure it's not a location problem? Try putting the whole url instead of the relative and see if anything changes.

rogier / November 19, 2001 05:59AM

Re: Wow! Talk about confusing

I've tried that also, but when I get back to the plugin page after a day or something, there are \ before and after the ", so I guess there's the problem.

Re: Wow! Talk about confusing

It works. Don't use quotes within the <img> tag ..

Re: Wow! Talk about confusing

OK I have Phorum 3.3.2a. I have uploaded several smiley gifs and checked that they do show up in the browser.

Went into admin, replace plugins, and added all five gifs. I use : ) in the first column and <img src=http://fullpath/smile.gif > without the spaces in the second column. Is there supposed to be a 3rd column?

After clicking apply, I go into my forum. But all I get is : ), no picture.

I tried looking at the CVS but have no idea how to get in there.

Please help.

That "Activate Plugin" button really helps ;-)

Working now.

Re: Smileys...

Hello

version 3.4 so far is working fine and to setup a smiley is simple just put your phrase or whatever in the replace box and select the smiley to replace it with
