Mark one thread as read

Mark one thread as read

Hey Boys!

I wondered if it's possible (of course with changes) to mark one (any) thread as read.

I have studied the issue a little, and it seems like the cookie is holding the information regarding which thread post has been read and which not.

It's possible to click one post and then it's gone from the "unread" - then it must be possible to make the same trick with a whole thread?

Hope hearing good news!
