Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Here is the adaptation of Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4 (20021105 & 20021009)

EasySmilies is a script to enhance Phorum's smilies management. It comes in two parts :

The first shows the smilies icons in the message box above the subject field. When the user click on a smiley icon, the corresponding replacement text is inserted in the body of the message.

It also manage the underline, italicise, bold etc...

The second part is a management script which allows you to choose which icons you want to show and which text propriety you want to allow.

If you don't see it as attachement, you can get it from my web site :

[\[www.jpicaud.com\]](http://www.jpicaud.com)

Let me know if it is useful to you

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

you know that phorum-3.4 already has a smiley-plugin?

JP / November 09, 2002 09:37PM

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Yes, and It is used by my script. But I want something which insert smilies inside the message just by a click (like phpBB do).

Anonymous User / November 11, 2002 09:20AM

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

ok so in 3.4 its just the form-part or still the second admin too?

JP / November 11, 2002 02:10PM

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

There is two parts, the first add some javascript to form.php, so the images are displayed in the "reply to message" box. When the user click on a image, the corresponding marker is inserted in the text field.

The second part let the user to choose which image will be associated to which similey marker (just like the smiley plugin). But I have also included an option for choosing images for text enhacements (bold, underline etc...).

The user can associate two images to each text anhacement, one for the opening marker and one for the closing (these images will toggle when clicked). Then the script creates the admin/settings/smiley.php file needed for the smiley plugin. The smiley plugin is used to replace the markers by images when a message is posted.

In the next version, I will add an option, so some smilies will be displayed only if the user is a moderator, so the admin can reserve some smilies for its ones usage (a good way to catch the user attention I think).

I'm getting the following errors when attempting to run easysmilies.php:

Notice: Undefined variable: Update in C:\inetpub\wwwroot\Brothers\forum\easysmilies\easysmilies.php on line 66

Notice: Undefined offset: 14 in C:\inetpub\wwwroot\Brothers\forum\easysmilies\easysmilies.php on line 328 (for offsets 14 through 61)

Notice: Undefined offset: 4 in C:\inetpub\wwwroot\Brothers\forum\easysmilies\easysmilies.php on line 374 (for offsets 4 through 61)

I'm also getting the error in the drop-down boxes, but it states on line 339 and 385.

Any ideas?

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Hello,

I'm using Phorum 3.4.1 over Apache 2.0.44 compiled with PHP4.3.0 in my SUN Ultra 10 running Solaris 8.

I've just installed Easysmilies 2.0 and it seem to be great, but after configure all things as in the readme.txt file, smilies appear on the post page and you can select any smiley, but after post the messages when you read it, the smiley appear as code and don't as image.

In order to make some test i've configured all the directories and files as "777" (rwx).

One thing more, after execute easysmilies.php and configure something the page seem to be with the default options.

Can you help me.

Thanks

Jesus

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Do you have activated the smiley plugin from the admin screen ?

Anonymous User / March 17, 2003 01:44PM

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Yes I've do it

In fact, you can see the smileys in the page of post on the upper menu, and you can select them. When you select one smiley his code appear on the message, but problem is that after post it when you read the message, in it the image (smiley) don't appear unless of this you can only see the code of smiley and not his image.

For example, in this example in which i've post an messages with smileys 1 and 3, when i read it, i only can see the code and not the images of the smileys.

This is a test message

:):-|

P:D: My server is Apache (PHP 4.2.3) over Solaris 8, and it's running as user nobody and group nobody due to i've give mark the phorum files as 550 (settings files are 660) and user root:nobody.

Thanks for your help,

Jesus

Check that all files have read/write permission and that they have the same owner.

Check PHP safe mode (PHP : php.ini file and Apache : httpd.conf file).

i'm getting pepe's problem too

i.e. it's ok with the message form, clicking the faces inserts the corresponding code, but when previewed or posted, the code appears instead of the image i think i know part of the problem. The smiley.php in the setting directory was not generated. So what should i do? The pluggin was activated already.

any help is appreciated

thanks jp, way to go

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

You have to give the correct path to your setting directory and check that we can write in this folder.

In the easysmilies.php file, find the line :

$ReplaceDir = "../admin/settings/";

and give the correct path to your settings folder.

If you have still a problem, then change the line with :

```
$ReplaceDir = "./";
```

the smiley.php file will be created in the easysmilies folder. Then move it yourself to the settings directory.

JP / June 12, 2003 10:34PM

New version of easysmilies

I have finished the new version of Easysmilies (for Phorum 3.4.3a) :

- * changed : now easysmilies is a real plugin. It no more use the Phorum smiley or replace plugin.
- * added : images are now sorted.
- * added : max number of smilies per line.
- * added : strike icons.

If the upload has not worked (as usual !), you can get it at :

[\[www.jpicaud.com\]](http://www.jpicaud.com)

By the way, if someone can draw prettier icons for the text proprieties, it would be great !

Those errors seem more like php problems.

Have a look at your php.ini settings. Its probably got to do with the level of error reporting you have set.

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

nice email function by clicking the mail button, but it's not done in ascii like the adresses in the memberlist and profile.

this would be more secure with the

```
function htmlspecialchars($string){
```

```
    $ret_string="";
```

```
    $len=strlen($string);
```

```
    for($x=0;$x<$len;$x++){
```

```
        $ord=ord($string[$x]);
```

```
        $ret_string .= "&#x$ord;";
```

```
    }
```

```
    return $ret_string;
```

```
}
```

can we do that?!

A new version is available for the new Phorum 3.4.5

To update, just replace the Phorum3.4.5 include/form.php by the easysmilies3.2 form.php.

For a new install, read the readme.txt.

No new features, just using the Phorum 3.4.5 form.php file.

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Changing many files will make update more difficult when the Phorum dev. team realise new version. And, there are more risks to introduce bugs.

Today, only the form.php file is different from the original one.

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

Easysmilies writes your config. in the phorum/admin/settings/ folder or whatever you have renamed this folder (in common.php file). You have to check that you can write in this folder.

First of all: great work JP!

I modified the icons for easysmile. For example I changed b (bold) to F (fett) and so on. Also I changed the background of all *off.gif to clear white.

I didn't change the smileys ;-)

Complete list of changed icons:

boldoff.gif
boldon.gif centeroff.gif centeron.gif emailoff.gif emailon.gif icons.psd imgoff.gif imgon.gif italicoff.gif italicon.gif quoteoff.gif quoteon.gif strikeoff.gif strikeon.gif underlineoff.gif underlineon.gif urloff.gif urlon.gif weboff.gif
webon.gif

If you like to change something:
I put the photoshop file into the zip-archive.

Yes, the form.php file has not changed from 3.4.5 to 3.4.6 ; and the form.php is the only file I have changed. Other files are added.

> Between, what is the code to add if I don't want to change completely the form.php ?

Look at the form.php file and search for "easysmilies" word. I have commented every modifications.

No. Phorum 5 is totally different from Phorum 3.

Re: Easysmilies for Phorum 3.4

And if you can't write to the folder because it's out of reach (as it should be because it's recommended by phorum), do the following:

Upload settings/easysmilies.php to phorum/admin/smiliesettings/easysmilies.php and then....

1) Add the easysmilies_dir line to common.php. (change the value of $easysmilies_dir to the path where your phorum is).

$settings_dir='/home/sites/site150/phorum_settings';
$easysmilies_dir='/home/sites/site150/web/gcc/forum/admin/smiliesettings'; and add a definition in rule 231 t/m 235 of common.php:
```

```
$PHORUM['settings_dir']=$settings_dir;
$PHORUM['easysmilies_dir']=$easysmilies_dir;
$PHORUM['include']='./include';
$PHORUM['group_cache']="$settings_dir/cache_user2group.php";
$PHORUM['moderator_cache']="$settings_dir/cache_moderators.php";
```

2) Change the settings dir in include/esf.php:

<?PHP include ($PHORUM['easysmilies_dir']."/easysmilies.php");
```

3) Change the settings dir in plugin/easysmilies/plugin.php:

```
<?php
if ( !defined( "_COMMON_PHP" ) ) return;
if(!file_exists($PHORUM['easysmilies_dir']."/easysmilies.php")) return;
include($PHORUM['easysmilies_dir']."/easysmilies.php");
```

4) Change the settings in plugin/easysmilies/admin.php;

```
<?PHP
```

```
if ( !defined( "_COMMON_PHP" ) ) return;
if($do!="props") return;
```

```
$ReplaceDir = $PHORUM['easysmilies_dir'];
```

That's it, I did this setting for Phorum 3.4.6 and it worked! :o)
